

Gender equality: 'We value men's work
more than women's'

What is the article talking about?

value jobs done by men more than women

Johnson's "build, build, build" to economic recovery

women are among the worst hit by the pandemic good social care (allow women to get back to work) invest care

put women interests centre-stage carers aren't being valued at the level that they should be.

maximise economic potential

Example in the Article

During the pandemic, we can see that women's carers are absolutely essential for our economy and healthy. However, those carers aren't being valued at the level that they should be. Therefore, we need to pay more attention on valuing care, and particularly unpaid care.

Gender discrimination in our daily life:

1. Males should be good at science and females should be good at liberal art.
2. Blue represents male and pink represents female.
3. Males cut short hair and females keep long hair.
4. Males are good at sports and females are good at housework.

Opinion

Regardless of gender, everyone should support women's rights. We are all human beings. They all have the rights they deserve. We should unite and improve everything together. Inequality, eliminate discrimination and jointly build a pluralistic and comfortable, suitable, friendly, and equal environment.
